MINISTER'S MESSAGE

The Beatitudes of Revelation (1/5)

For the most part, people are aware of the Beatitudes in Jesus' Sermon on the Mount. Where He tells us who is blessed and what they will receive as a result. We may not be as familiar with what you could call the Beatitudes in the book of Revelation. There are similar statements made about what characterizes a blessed person in the last book of the Bible.

One of them is Revelation 14:13. In 14:9-13, John is seeing visions pertaining to those who worship a certain beast. This beast is most likely the Roman Empire (at least in my opinion), though it is not too pertinent to what is said in verse 13. John records there, "And I heard a voice from heaven, saying, 'Write, "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from now on!"' 'Yes,' says the Spirit, 'so that they may rest from their labors, for their deeds follow with them.'" Similar to this is Psalm 116:15 where the Psalmist says, "Precious in the sight of the LORD is the death of His saints."

We have to let God define success. If we were to know a young person who was a faithful Christian who died, we might call that a tragedy. God looks at that as a success. Though that young person could have gone on to do great things for the Kingdom, if they had faith in God and glorified them in their relatively short life, we are told that they are blessed and that God sees their death as a precious thing. For now they are able to be with Him for an eternity.
